What the environment will do to kill your deal, if you are not prepared!

- Environmental issues are running rampant. What do we as commercial real estate brokers need to be aware of when doing any transaction?
- What kind of disclosures are there? What kind of testing is required?
- What kind costs are there for doing any of the reports and more importantly, if work needs to be done from testing to remediation?
- How do you remove the potential environmental risks involved in a real estate transaction?
- Come listen to an experienced “scientist” with over 40 years in the business. Protect your client and know how to do your business by learning about what you don’t know.
